BUS OR STREET CAR PLEBISCITE MAY BE TAKEN IN DECEMBER

City Council Committee Decides on Vote to Determine Form of Transportation to Be Considered in Connection With Renewal Of B.C. Electric Franchise

VOTERS at the annual civic elections early in December will be asked, "Are You in Favor of Buses or Street Cars?" it was decided yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the City Council B.C. Electric franchise committee.

Alderman Archie Willis presided at the conference, which was also attended by A. T. Goward, vice-president and general manager of the B.C. Electric Railway Company, Ltd. Others present were: Mayor Andrew McGavin, Aldermen T. W. Hawkins and W. Lloyd Morgan.

"It is up to the public to decide whether it wants buses or street cars, since the franchise expires next year. Future action of the City Council will be guided by the result of the public vote on buses or street cars," Alderman Willis stated.

EXPERT SOUGHT
At a council meeting Tuesday evening, Mayor McGavin and Alderman Willis were asked to investigate appointment of an outside expert to advise the city in franchise matters. Alderman Willis asserted they had considered several names, but had not yet made a decision.

Matters discussed at the meeting yesterday included the Goldstream power plant of four generators, which the city has to take over according to terms of the franchise; rates on light and power, and the possibility of a reduction, and technical details of the franchise.

Alderman Willis said no conclusions were reached, and another meeting would be held about the middle of November.

DENY SUPPORT GIVEN BY POPE

Vatican Not Taking Sides In Any Political or National Conflict

VATICAN CITY, Oct. 15 (CP-Havas).—Mgr. Celso Constantini, secretary of the Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith—which has jurisdiction over Catholics in missionary countries—today officially denied reports that Pope Pius plans to support Japanese action in China, in so far as this action is aimed at "the Communist peril."

Mgr. Constantini, a former Apostolic delegate to China, stated the Vatican is fully aware of the danger which Communism constitutes for the Catholic missions, but that, nevertheless, specific instructions have been sent to these missions to devote themselves exclusively to their religious work and not to mix in any way in political questions.

VATICAN STATEMENTS

Mgr. Constantini's denial followed similar statements from other Vatican sources who stated flatly that the Holy See would not take sides officially or unofficially in any conflict of a political nature, and much less in a military struggle.

Vatican support of Japan, it was pointed out, would be hardly forthcoming in view of the Pontiff's personal desires for peace. Evidence of his firm attachment to peace was further seen in an article in the semi-official Osservatore Romano, in which Vatican policy was summed up by the phrase: "Exterminate all nations who want war."

British and American Volunteers Perished at the Frontier

PERPIGNAN, France, Oct. 15 (P).—Bodies of nearly 200 British and United States volunteers to the Spanish civil war were found by agents of the non-intervention committee along the Franco-Spanish frontier during the summer, Colonel C. D. O. Lunn, a Danish officer, said today.

Colonel Lunn, commander of the International Border Guard, which has been idle since France cancelled the non-intervention control of the frontier and policed it herself, said most of those found dead apparently became lost in the mountains and wandered until they collapsed from exhaustion.

"Some fell from cliffs and into crevasses," he said. "Many of the bodies were attacked by wolves. All were in such a state, they were unrecognizable."

The nationalities were established by clothing and other belongings found nearby, Lunn said; but the absence of papers made establishment of identities impossible. The bodies were buried where they were found.

VANCOUVER, Oct. 15 (P).—Patrick Julien Brennan, twenty-two, tonight was acquitted of manslaughter arising from the fumigation death of three-year-old Joan Brewer last June 21. The Assize Court jury which tried the case deliberated only twenty minutes.

Trial of Brennan, watchman on the fumigating job, was the second of its kind at the present sitting of the Assize Court. A few days ago Brennan's employer, Philip Wright McLeod, fifty-two, was convicted on a similar charge, and is now held at Oakalla Prison in nearby Burnaby municipality, awaiting sentence.

Liner Has Cargo of Explosive

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (P).—The E. U. Dupont de Nemours Company and the Hamburg American Line disclosed tonight that $125,000 worth of Dupont explosives left here last Friday on the Hamburg liner St. Louis for Hamburg and transshipment to China.

The Dupont Company did not give details of the shipment, but the line said it consisted of 17,000 fifty-pound cases of TNT—425 tons.

The company said it was an order filed before the present Sino-Japanese hostilities and that it had not accepted any order since they broke out.

PLANES SPREAD THREAT OF WAR

Turn to Shantung Seacoast As Land Troops Slowed By Floods

SHANGHAI, Oct. 16 (P).—Japanese bombing planes today carried the threat of spreading warfare to coastal cities of Shantung, one of the five North China provinces Japan is seeking to dominate.

Planes flew over Tsingtao, Shantung's chief seaport, and Chinese officials said they believed Japanese naval vessels would attempt to land troops under the cover of air bombardments.

The threat to Shantung's seacoast came as Japanese troops advancing southward toward Tsinanfu, provincial capital, were slowed by floods. Retreating Chinese opened canal dikes to put large areas of the low-lying country under water.

NEW BOMBARDMENT

At Shanghai Japanese naval vessels started a new bombardment of the Pootung industrial area across the Whangpoo River from the International Settlement.

Japanese military authorities at Peiping in North China indicated they expected the fall of Tsinanfu, Shantung Province capital, by tomorrow. The Japanese now have captured the capitals of Hopei, Chahar and Suiyuan provinces, and are nearing those of Shantung and Shansi.

LANDUDNO, Wales, Oct. 15 (P).—Foreign Secretary Eden, in a new call tonight for a real effort to settle the problem of armed intervention in Spain, denounced "proclaimed intervention and glorification of breaches of agreement."

"In such a condition, no one can complain," he declared, "if the patience of those who have striven to keep their responsibilities toward Europe constantly before them is well nigh exhausted."

Movements Heighten Fear Of Terrorism in Palestine—Police Amushed

JERUSALEM, Oct. 15 (P).—Movements of the Grand Mufti of Jerusalem, only member of the Arab higher committee not deported or banished as a result of Palestine's prolonged disorders, heightened fear tonight of new terrorism in the Holy Land.

British authorities clamped down a nightfall curfew, interned suspects and threatened martial law following apparently planned outbreaks of guerrilla warfare.

KILLED FROM AMBUSH

The latest disturbances included the ambush killing of two British constables in a skirmish with an Arab band near Bethlehem and sixteen other casualties within forty-eight hours. Four Arabs were killed and twelve Jews injured.

The fact that the Grand Mufti, Amil El Hussein, failed to appear for mid-day prayers at his mosque sanctuary spurred rumors he had slipped out of the country. This was denied authoritatively, however.

So far as was known, the Grand Mufti still was somewhere within the precincts of the Mosque of Omar.

Community Chest Workers Meet at Opening Banquet

Representatives of Welfare Agencies Gather at Dinner in Empress Hotel—G. G. McGeer, K.C., M.P., and Dr. H. M. Cassidy, Director of Social Services in B.C., Give Addresses

"By our exertion we have built the British Empire and by our example we may yet save the world. This community spirit we are building upon tonight goes to the very root of the success of our democracy," declared G. G. McGeer, K.C., M.P., former Mayor of Vancouver, in an address at a banquet at the Empress Hotel to inaugurate the Greater Victoria Community Chest.

The dinner last night was attended by citizens and representatives of the twenty-three welfare agencies which have been co-ordinated to raise a fund of $72,615 for 1938 activities. The dinner was presided over by R. H. B. Ker, a member of the campaign executive, who introduced the two guest speakers, Mr. McGeer and Dr. H. M. Cassidy, Provincial director of social services.

COMMUNITY SPIRIT

Mr. McGeer's address mainly concerned the development of a community spirit, locally, provincially and nationally. Of the Community Chest Fund, he said it was something of enduring value. "It is real social security and the fundamental foundation of community life, not held up as a means of saving money, but to better and improve the general well-being of the life of your city and its citizens. What you are inaugurating tonight should be an inspiration for future generations," he declared.

Under a community chest management, there is an assurance of fair and equitable distribution of funds contributed for social welfare work, said the speaker. "There is a feeling in Vancouver that the community chest, in operation for seven years, has taken a good deal of the racketeering out of public charity and has substituted for waste in duplication an efficiency of distribution of public generosity and good will. Community spirit of the right kind is a great thing for any city, province or nation."

EFFORT OUT OF LINE

Mr. McGeer referred for a moment to "another kind of community spirit that had got out of line," mentioning conditions in Spain and in the Orient. Japanese progress was built on a community spirit and China's failure was due to internal strife caused by lack of it. He mentioned the "wonderful community expression of public loyalty at the recent coronation of Their Majesties in England."

As an example of the value of community effort, Mr. McGeer pointed to the programme in Great Britain recently announced by Prime Minister Chamberlain, in which the nation was co-ordinating its services to give "national direction to local government authorities."

VANCOUVER'S CHEST

Mr. McGeer related instances of work being accomplished in Vancouver and throughout the province through a community chest idea. "For every dollar advanced to the Community Chest in Vancouver, we are receiving two dollars in services rendered, compared to what we would have got without a community chest," he asserted. He complimented Victoria on its ability to organize twenty-three welfare departments and hoped for success of the drive commencing on November 1. At the commencement of his address, Mr. McGeer paid tribute to the late Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie, of whom he said: "For all that was worthwhile in the community, Dr. Tolmie stood for."

TAXES AND SERVICES

Dr. Cassidy spoke on "Your Taxes and Your Social Services," which was more along the line of suggestions to campaign workers to meet arguments concerning payment by taxes to cover social services. He considered public welfare in the light of preventive and rehabilitation work and discussed the various elements that entered into social welfare work, its cost to governments through the operation of mental institutions, industrial schools for boys, hospitals, relief and tuberculosis hospital maintenance, more than $3,000 per year per individual cared for. By preventive measures, he said, considerable could be done to lower costs. He complimented Victoria for its spirit and the organization of the Greater Victoria Community Chest.

Mr. Ker, in his remarks as chairman, mentioned the success of the community chest idea in other localities. The organization in Victoria, he said, was completed only after a careful survey of all conditions, covering many months. The campaign here will open on November 1 and continue until November 8.

Fred McCreger, one of the campaign chairmen, proposed the vote of thanks to the speakers.

APPLAUSE GIVEN OPERETTA HERE

Children From Vancouver Catholic Mission Delight Audience at St. Ann's

A lively sense of comedy, the more pronounced because of the natural inscrutability of the young actors' expressions, pervaded the animated operetta, Paul Bliss' "Feast of the Little Lanterns," performed at St. Ann's Auditorium last evening by a clever and remarkably well-rehearsed company of children from the Saint Francis Xavier Chinese Catholic Mission, Vancouver. It will be repeated this afternoon and evening.

The pretty story was given a brilliant setting, with a great dragon-painted screen and scenic panels filling the back of the stage, which was lighted from above and from the footlights side by numerous gaudy lanterns. Too much praise cannot be given the children themselves. Exquisitely dressed, in richly-colored Chinese fabrics, with flowers in their hair, and carrying either lanterns or fans, they acted with an animation that was as amazing as the strength of their voices. Each child was word and note perfect, the stellar example of both being little five-year-old Ethel Kong, whose naivete was more than matched by the power of her lungs. She was the undisputed prima donna of the first part of the programme, a series of nursery songs and recitations to which the Misses Mabel Wong, Ethel and Jean Kong, and Aileen Chan also contributed.

In the pretty two-act operetta the principals, all of whom showed much self-possession and dramatic as well as vocal ability, were the Misses Myrtle, Dorothy and Violet Wong, and James Wong.

SPONSOR PRODUCTION

The Catholic Youth Organization of Victoria, of which Jack Bellis is president, sponsored the production, given here for the double purpose of raising funds for the Vancouver Mission, and to stimulate local interest in the establishment of a similar mission here.

Father Hugh Sharkey, who started the mission four years ago on his return from China, came from Vancouver and told the audience something about the work. Accompanying him were his two associates, Father Roland Roberts and Father Kenneth Turner, and representing the Grey Nuns of Pembroke, Ontario, who assist as missionaries, was Sister Mary Gertrude. The two directors were the Misses Edna and Marie Bryant, who with George Connolly and Shirley Christie constituted the orchestra. Rev. Father Anselm Wood represented the Bishop, and helping on the stage were Arthur Leonard, Frank Constable and Donald Mulcahy, of the Catholic Youth organization.

URGE ASSENT TO PLAN FOR DEBT CHANGE

Holders of City Debentures To Be Provided With Complete Information

TORONTO COMMITTEE PUBLISHES SUMMARY

Bond brokers, trust companies and banks will be provided with printed copies of a summary of the Jules E. Fortin debt adjustment plan and review of city finances. Holders of city of Victoria bonds will be asked to fill out attached forms giving prompt assent to the plan, according to Charles S. Henley, city fiscal agent.

Booklets have been issued by Victoria debenture holders' committee. Officers are E. E. Reid (chairman), A. J. Mitchell, W. P. Scott, J. A. Fraser and W. J. Beattie, officials of Toronto insurance companies and financial firms.

The preface states:

"Victoria debenture holders' committee submits for your consideration and support a plan of adjustment of the finances of Victoria. Before this plan can become effective, it is necessary that it be approved by creditors of the city holding 51 per cent in value of the city's debt dealt with by the plan."

APPROVAL FORM

"There is attached a form of approval and authority to the committee which you are earnestly requested to complete and return to the secretary of the committee, W. F. McIlroy, 302 Bay Street, Toronto, immediately. It is important that this matter receive your attention without delay, as your prompt action in the matter is necessary if default is to be avoided."

"Following submissions by the city that it could not continue to meet payment of debenture principal and interest on the present basis, representative holders of the city's debentures joined in the formation of a debenture holders' committee. This committee caused to be made, at the invitation and with the co-operation of the city, a complete survey of the city's affairs."

"Facts of the situation have been carefully considered by the committee. Full co-operation by the city and its officials in seeking ways and means of meeting the problem without alteration of the terms of the city's obligations to its creditors was given to the committee. It was only after careful study and consideration of all relevant factors that the committee concluded it would be necessary to develop a plan involving realignment of the city's obligations."

COMMITTEE SATISFIED

"The committee desires to impress upon creditors of the city of Victoria that it has satisfied itself that it is necessary to afford the city and its ratepayers an easement in the burden of debt charges so as to enable the city to ultimately pay its debts without subjecting the city or the creditors to the difficulties of default."

"When the plan as submitted has received approval of the holders of the required 51 per cent of the debt, necessary legal steps will be completed and creditors will be advised as to the procedure to be followed to exchange their debentures and other evidences of the debt for the new securities provided for in the plan."

College Students Receive Bursaries And Scholarships

Many Special Prizes Presented Before Large Gathering at Victoria College Annual Ceremony Held at High School Auditorium Yesterday

EIGHT young women and fourteen young men, students of Victoria College last year, were named as recipients of twenty-six scholarships, bursaries and special prizes to the value of $3,850, at the annual presentation ceremony of the college yesterday afternoon in the Victoria High School auditorium.

The awards were made to, or received on behalf of, the students in the presence of a large gathering of the student body of Victoria College, members of the college faculty, representatives of educational institutions, and donors or representatives of donors of prizes.

Principal P. H. Elliott presided over the gathering, and C. W. Lonsdale, headmaster of Shawnigan Lake School, was the guest speaker. Among others who addressed the students briefly in connection with the presentation of prizes were George Jay, former chairman of the Board of School Trustees; A. D. Macfarlane, K.C., and Major F. V. Longstaff.

STANDARD MAINTAINED Professor Elliott, in an introductory address in which he warmly welcomed representatives of the Department of Education, the Board of School Trustees, and various societies and organizations, remarked that it might accurately be said that the work of the last session was up to the usual good standard.

The work of the college did was made possible by the excellent training the students received in the preparatory schools, the speaker declared. All the schools of the community did excellent work, and no complaint could be found against any one of them.

"Last year the total enrollment was only 170," Professor Elliott continued. "I am glad to report that this year it is 215. It is a curious feature that, whereas last session there was about an equal division of sexes, this year the men outnumbered the women by two to one. An outstanding feature this year is the greatly increased proportional enrollment in physics, chemistry and biology."

The principal referred with regret to the departure of Miss Margaret Ross, who had served as librarian and instructor in history, and said that in Mr. Sidney Pettit the college had an able successor. Miss Rena Grant was supplying in Miss H. R. Humphrey's place in the English department for the session 1937-38.

"We look forward to a pleasant and profitable session," Professor Elliott concluded.

MEANS OF FREEDOM

"Freedom" was the title of the address given by Mr. Lonsdale, the guest speaker—a freedom, he said, which, if the students were able to achieve it, would make their lives the richer because the goal would not be a "job" with a "cash value," but rather would be a means only towards the freedom all should seek.

Mr. Lonsdale declared that the type of citizen required in this province was a fully-developed person, physically fit, spiritually aware, mentally vigorous, emotionally stable and responsive; a person who, at the same time, was capable of functioning satisfactorily within his own environment.

"We must have freedom from much that is conventional," the speaker continued. "We must in a sense become rebels, critical of our society, yet not destructive critics; citizens with a strong sense of in-

SAYS BUILDINGS ARE IN DEMAND

E. F. Burton Tells Realty Board City Could Absorb Many More Houses

"Greater Victoria is suffering from a shortage of houses and apartments of the three, four, five and six-room type at rentals ranging from $20 to $40 a month," E. F. Burton, president of the Real Estate Board, told members of that body at their luncheon meeting yesterday in Spencer's dining-room. He declared that two or three hundred more houses of this type could be absorbed.

Addressing the meeting on the subject of real estate as an investment, Mr. Burton said that since the beginning of time man's foremost ambition had been to own his home, and today that desire was just as strong as at any time in the past. Those engaged in the real estate business in the last twenty-five years had seen boom and depression, but land at all times had had a positive value. The value of such investments was brought home in 1929-30, when many investors saved their all by having a piece of real estate included in their assets, on which to raise money.

To receive the maximum return from any piece of real estate, it was necessary to set aside a certain portion of income for upkeep and improvement of buildings, the speaker stated, and in Greater Victoria there were buildings that would bring in 10 to 15 per cent more revenue if this course had been followed.

HAD GOOD EFFECT

Lowering of taxation had had a good effect on the sale of property, and a steady increase in sales had been noticed, Mr. Burton continued. A plentiful supply of mortgage money had helped to bring about today's conditions, and the Dominion Government's housing plan and home improvement plan had proved a boon. Cost of construction had risen 20 per cent in the last two years, but this had not slowed down construction.

The speaker dealt with the advantages and disadvantages of different types of property as investments, and with various precautions that should be observed in lending money on real estate. He declared that the Mortgagees and Purchasers' Relief Act had proved a good thing in some ways, but it was generally expected that it would not be renewed at the coming session. It was gratifying, he concluded, to see the number of reverted properties being again placed on the tax roll.

STATES ADVANTAGES

J. A. Bennell enumerated the advantages which the property owner received by placing his affairs in the hands of an agent. He referred to rental collections, the scale of rentals, arrangement of operating expenses and running repairs, suggestions whereby rentals could be increased by improvements to the property, the keeping of books of account, the handling of employees, attention to legal and governmental duties, workmen's compensation, and negotiations with city officials.

Both addresses provided material for considerable discussion, and the speakers were thanked for their interesting talks.

LOSES LIFE TRYING TO BOARD FREIGHT

REVELSTOKE, B.C., Oct. 15 (AP).—Injured Thursday when he fell under an eastbound freight train at Sicamous, B.C., thirty miles west of here, J. B. Danerfield, eighteen-year-old resident of Constance, Sask., died in hospital here today. Danerfield lost both legs in the accident. Police said he was attempting to board the moving train and apparently lost his footing.

OLD CANOE DISCUSSED

Thermopylae Club Members Would Like to See Tilikum Dressed Up

The forty-sixth dog watch of the Thermopylae Club was held during the week. The most important matter discussed was the Indian canoe, Tilikum. The consensus of opinion among the members of the crew was that something worth while should be done about the craft. The crew felt that the canoe, hewn from a tree grown on Vancouver Island by a Vancouver Island Indian and made famous by the superb seamanship of a former resident of Victoria, should be more prominently displayed, especially since the hull had been put in good repair.

It was also thought it should be fully rigged as well, demonstrating what a small vessel properly equipped and handled by a smart sailor could accomplish.

NEARER THE MUSEUM
In spite of some difficulties of financing, the club had been able to restore the body of the canoe; but a number of the ship's personnel would like to place it under a more commodious shelter, which would permit of the rigging of masts, when she would look as she did on starting out on her epoch-making voyage.

The members believe if they could get permission to have the hull of the Tilikum moved to a more public place nearer the museum, it would promote more interest in the ship and a more suitable shelter be provided with patience and good management.

Several good stories were related and a number of reels of motion pictures exhibited during the evening. Captain MacDonald told of his experiences on a sailing vessel in the vicinity of Krakatau when it blew up in the 'eighties. Shipmate Cuppage told a yarn about beliefs and superstitions of sailors; and Shipmate Scott showed pictures of Shanghai and other Chinese scenes, as well as pictures of yacht racing at Cadboro Bay. He also read a letter from a friend in Hongkong, describing the typhoon which recently did so much damage to shipping in the British port on the China coast.

SAILING FOR ORIENT SIDE

Empress of Russia Is Outward Bound With Small Passenger List

With a comparatively small list of passengers aboard, the Canadian Pacific Ss. Empress of Russia, Captain J. F. Patrick, R.N.R., commander, will sail from Rithet Piers this afternoon, bound for Far East ports. The liner will come to Victoria at 4 o'clock and should sail for Yokohama, her first port of call across the Pacific, at 5:30 p.m., after embarking passengers and taking on mail and cargo at the local dock.

SEA INTERFERES
Wrecking of the Greek ship Nereus, which went ashore on the West Coast of Vancouver Island, near Cape Beale, and was purchased by a syndicate headed by the Capital Iron & Metals Company, is now being carried on subject to vagaries of the weather. Favored with good weather for some time, a large amount of the salvageable articles on the ship has been removed, and it is expected considerably more will be saved before the winter storms break the hull up completely.

LUMBER SHIP
The Norwegian M. Eli docked here late Thursday night to load 500,000 feet of lumber. She is alongside Ogden Point Piers, and it is expected she will get away today. The Eli was here a short time ago and loaded 300,000 feet of railway ties.

FLIGHTS NOT PRACTICABLE

Explorer Doubts Success of Route Between Russia And United States

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (AP).—Rear-Admiral Richard E. Byrd said today he doubted regular flights between Russia and the United States over the route pioneered by Soviet airmen this year would be practicable "for some years." The explorer-flier voiced this view after he and members of his second Antarctic expedition received special United States Congressional Medals from the Navy Department.

"The Russia-America route can be flown only half the year," Byrd said. "Even under otherwise favorable conditions, the problems of ice forming on the wings and the lack of bases are difficult."

Byrd added he never considered practicable floating air bases such as Russians established at the North Pole this year.

Byrd minimized the military strategic possibilities of a polar base, but said he believed permanent weather observation stations should be maintained in the Far North and South.

"Some time in the future," he said he planned to give two more years to exploration, but added he had not decided on the Antarctic.

SHORTAGE OF CARGO SPACE

Several Reasons Responsible For Lack of Ships Coming to Coast

VANCOUVER, Oct. 15 (AP).—F. E. Burke, president of Vancouver Merchants' Exchange, today told the Board of Trade's foreign trade bureau that shortage of ship tonnage here and subsequent increases in ocean freight rates have worked to the advantage of Ontario shippers.

Rates on the Pacific have nearly doubled in recent months, he said, and Prairie exporters can save money now by shipping East instead of West.

"The British Columbia shipper has to face a differential of $6 a ton on shipping rates to the United Kingdom," Mr. Burke said, "and that is an impossibility."

He said reasons for the shortage of tonnage at Vancouver included cessation of commercial shipbuilding because of heavy armament programmes, withdrawal of Japanese ships for national requirements occasioned by the present Sino-Japanese conflict, and shortage of the Western Canada grain crop, which has resulted in a reduction in the number of ships calling here.

VANCOUVER SHIPPING

VANCOUVER, Oct. 15 (AP).—The Anglo-Saxon motor tanker Sepia was due here today from California, inaugurating a new service, according to C. Gardner Johnson, Ltd., agents for the company. The vessel is bringing a full cargo of crude oil to the Shell Oil Company's refineries at Shellburn, B.C.

A luncheon was held on board M. Elizabeth Bakke, of the Knutsen Line, here today, to officially introduce this vessel to the British Columbia-European service of the Canada Shipping Company.

Built in 1937, to complement the fast M. Martin Bakke, of the same company, she has exceeded the Martin's cruise speed by half a knot.

She is 453 feet long, fifty feet in beam, built at Gothenberg and is commanded by Captain G. Fjaertot.

HAVE TO SEEK NEW QUARTERS

Vancouver Yachtsmen Expect Dominion Will Provide Moorings

VANCOUVER, Oct. 15 (AP).—The Dominion Government will be asked by Vancouver sportsmen and the City Park Board to provide permanent moorings for the Royal Vancouver Yacht Club squadron.

Speakers at a joint luncheon meeting of the Yacht Club, Vancouver Rowing Club and the Park Board yesterday said Dominion authorities were anxious that the clubs should continue to develop competent sailors and motorboat men, and to make Vancouver "sea conscious."

A joint committee was formed to discuss the matter of new quarters for the clubs. The club representatives said they would shortly have to move from their present locations on busy Coal Harbor, near Vancouver's deep-sea piers.

Whalers Celebrated Arrival Ashore After Four Months In Arctic Waters

HALIFAX, Oct. 15 (AP).—Residents of Halifax looked reminiscently out over the harbor at the mothership New Sevilla and her brood of seven whalers today, and admitted they had underestimated the robustness of whaling crews. A city that thought it knew all about the ways of seafaring men decided it was wrong.

Not that the 300 whalers who came ashore last night were really bad; it was just that they simply had to celebrate pay night and their first excursion ashore after more than four months of ship life in Arctic waters. They did.

Fifteen of the 300 ended up in jail—and most Halifax folk were of the opinion the police had been amazingly good-natured at that. Two whalers were in hospital today, and that also wasn't such a bad record.

ALL IN FUN
Of course it was all in fun. Even when two whalers tangled in a second-story cafe and crashed through a window to the street twenty feet below, it was still in fun. One went to hospital, the other disappeared quickly in the gathering crowd.

One invader was found clinging somewhat dazedly to the piling of a wharf after he had taken an impromptu ducking because he hadn't stopped when the wharf did; another leaned against—and through—a plate-glass window on Halifax's main thoroughfare.

A group of visitors joyfully engaged police in a pitched battle following a raid on what was claimed to be a speakeasy; other groups contented themselves with attempts to wreck all available restaurants.

Haligonians are wondering whether the whalers are getting shore leave again tonight.

CARS MADE IN CANADA

New Equipment for National Railways Is Credit to Builders

MONTREAL, Oct. 15.—First of fifty cars which will soon go into regular service on Canadian National trains, including the Continental Limited to Vancouver, two new air-conditioned day coaches were delivered to the railway today by the builders.

Designed by C.N.R. architects and engineers and built by Canadian workmen, there is no finer equipment on any railroad line on the continent. Made of light alloy steels, weight has been reduced thirteen tons without sacrificing strength or safety.

Cushioned in Duniopillo, the new latex material which moulds itself to the body, the sixty-four seats are built to rotate and are adjustable in three reclining positions. The interiors present a smart appearance finished in bright pastel colors.

Windows are wide for clear vision and are trimmed with aluminum. They are sealed tight to eliminate dust, noise and draughts. What will undoubtedly prove a popular feature is the individual lighting over each seat, a shadowless lens light set at an angle to provide the greatest reading comfort. This supplements the ceiling lighting which is a new anti-glare type.

Female passengers get an exclusive lounge to themselves on the new cars. It is equipped with a leather covered sofa and wing mirrors. There is a large sixteen-seat smoking compartment for men running the full width of the car. Both ladies' lounge and men's smoking room have porcelain washing fixtures finished in different colors, the wash basin is recessed to provide more room.

Ice bunkers for the air conditioning system have a capacity of three tons. Drinking water will no longer be provided by filling the cars at stations en route. Air pressure will force water from a large tank below the car to an ice-surrounded container within the car. There is no contact between water and ice.

Equipped with six-wheel trucks for strength and superior riding quality, twenty-five of the cars will be equipped with Timken roller bearings and the balance will have standard friction bearings. Delivery on all the cars is expected before the end of the year.

LIBERTY UNDER LAW

Macaulay died nearly eighty years ago. It is likely that he would have laughed to scorn the suggestion that in 1937, in a British Province in North America, there would come into existence a legislature so left to itself as to pass a law calculated to establish a hard and fast censorship of the Press. Nevertheless the incredible thing has actually come about. The statute has been brought forward, passed through its several stages in the Legislature, and submitted to the appropriate authority for final approval.

How can we account for this astonishing situation? Mr. Aberhart, whatever his limitations may be, assuredly possesses intelligence of a sort. He has, no doubt, studied political philosophy even if he has not mastered it. Moreover, he is undoubtedly sincere. He possesses that quality, indeed, in an excessive degree. He is sincere to the point of fanaticism. To achieve his political

RADIO UNIT FOR POLICE IS DEBATED

Commission Plans to Call Conference of Outside Municipalities Soon

CHIEF SAYS CRIME WOULD BE REDUCED

Police commissioners of Oak Bay, Esquimalt and Victoria, and Provincial Police will be invited to discuss a Greater Victoria short-wave radio-telephone system for plover cars and motorcycles, it was decided at a city police commission meeting yesterday afternoon. Mayor Andrew McGavin presided.

Chief Thomas Heatley told commissioners a two-way, or even a one-way radiotelephone system would help to stamp out night prowling and petty crime. He described how a transmitter and receiving set could be located at the police station and operated by desk sergeants and reserve men on duty. Many cities smaller than Victoria were finding police radio invaluable, he stated.

"Unless outside municipalities used and contributed to radio service, there is little chance of it being established here," Mayor McGavin commented.

"I believe Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt each would be willing to contribute $25 per month," Chief Heatley answered.

COST DISCUSSED

Called in by the chief, Clifford Deaville stated a police radio system should be self-supporting, with a possible annual outlay of about $400 to replace equipment within five years. After discussing figures on the cost of one, two and three-way systems, the commission decided to call a Greater Victoria conference of commissioners in the near future.

Constable Noel G. Griffiths was reinstated to the police force, on recommendation of the chief. He secured leave in March to attend to business in England. Resignation of Constable John Morris was accepted.

Constable Angus Munro was confirmed as a third-class constable. Miss Alice Katrina Fry, police-woman, who has been on probation, was confirmed a permanent member of the force.

Chief Heatley led commissioners on a tour of inspection of the fingerprint department, recently moved to an office on the main floor at the police station. He informed the commission that Detective David Donaldson was studying fingerprint work, and Constable Percy Shakespear had been ordered to also take up the subject.

A letter from Detective Henry F. Jarvis, president of Victoria Police Mutual Benefit Association, asked the commission about the outcome of a May resolution, suggesting that members of the force be provided with telephones. The commission decided to take no action in the matter.

An offer of B.C. Land & Investment Agency to provide the station with a second-hand adding machine for $100 was turned down.

A tender of William Inglis to install an iron basin in the fingerprint department for $57 was accepted. It was decided to ask the building inspector's department to repair the roof on the automobile storage shed, and carry out cornice and other roof work at a total cost of $65.

ANNUAL SOCIAL WELL ATTENDED

Award Horticultural Association Prizes—F. E. Boulter Given Testimonial

Approximately 200 members of the Victoria Horticultural Society and their friends attended the fourteenth annual social and prize distribution of the organization in the A.O.P. Hall, last evening, heard a delightful musical programme, saw the awards of prizes won during the year, and applauded the presentation of a testimonial to F. E. Boulter, who recently retired as secretary after fourteen years service.

Reeve Alex Lockley, of Esquimalt, who presented cups and medals won in Victoria Horticultural Association competitions, suggested that as a pioneer member of the municipal school board, he had often wished the Department of Education would set aside a portion of the school grounds so that children could be taught gardening in their formative years. "If our boys and girls were thus brought up to be busy, they would find no time to do anything wrong," he commented.

Judge P. S. Lampman presented prizes won in Vancouver Island Horticultural Association competitions.

WINS GRAND AGGREGATE

The grand aggregate cup of the Victoria Horticultural Association, presented by the Lieutenant-Governor, was won by Angus McKay. A. R. Harness won the Banksian Medal, which will be presented on its arrival from England.

In the garden competition, winners in class "A" were: 1. L. V. W. Ahlers; 2. T. R. Bell; 3. A. R. Harness. In class "B": 1. George Davies; 2. R. Battison; 3. Mrs. J. Sarlat, and in class "C": 1. A. Tyrell; 2. A. S. Derman; 3. A. E. Powell.

Presentations were also made to the winners of the monthly competitions. Eric Bayley won the award in the novice class.

Judge Lampman awarded the C.H.C. Challenge Cup for the Island's best all-round garden to V. W. Ahlers, Saanich, and the V.I.H. Gold Medal for the Island's best all-round garden, worked without outside help, to T. R. Bell, 2605 Dalhousie Road, Oak Bay.

F. E. BOULTER HONORED

The bronze medal to the garden scoring the most points for flowers went to A. Zellinsky, Bamberton, and a similar medal for the garden scoring the most points for vegetables, to George Little, Saanich.

George Atwood, first vice-president of the Victoria Horticultural Society, made the presentation of the testimonial to Mr. Boulter. A presentation of a bouquet to Mrs. Boulter was made by Mrs. D. Ramsay, president of the Women's Auxiliary. By a coincidence, yesterday was the twenty-fourth anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Boulter's wedding.

Participating in the musical programme were Jack Townsend, Little Norah Rudworth, Miss Phyllis Deaville, Dan Dyer, Pierre Timp, Miss Janet Dobbs and Ernest Impett. Mrs. C. C. Wain was accompanist.

The gathering stood in silence for a minute in tribute to the memory of the late Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie, M.P., president of the British Columbia Agricultural Association.

Later, refreshments were served by the ladies of the auxiliary.

A. McKelvie, Canadian Summer Iron Works, Ltd., Vancouver, chairman of the British Columbia division, will also be a guest.

City and District

Permit Granted—Representatives of the Keith Wilson Estate secured a $1,500 city building permit yesterday for erection of a fourteen-room beauty parlor at 718 Yates Street.

Hospital Work—Jubilee Hospital directors secured a $3,000 city building permit yesterday for erection of a linen and sewing room to be attached to the laundry. The building will have a tar and gravel roof, brick and stucco walls and fir floors.

Postpones Hearing—Charged with having discharged a firearm within the city limits, thus violating a by-law, George Tippet entered a plea of guilty in the city police court yesterday and was remanded until Friday next.

More Lights—A petition from thirty-seven residents of the 300 and 400 blocks on Michigan Street, seeking more adequate street lighting in the neighborhood, was received at the City Hall yesterday. Residents also asked for removal of every alternate tree along the boulevard.

Child Slightly Hurt—According to a police report, Angela DeMacedo, 746 Princess Avenue, suffered slight abrasions when she was struck by a car driven by John D. Stevens, 1539 Monterey Avenue, at the corner of Chambers and Grant Streets yesterday afternoon. The bicycle the child was riding at the time of the mishap was undamaged.

To Ring Muffled Peal—In tribute to the memory of the late Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie, whose funeral will take place at 3 o'clock this afternoon from Christ Church Cathedral, the tenor bell will be tolled just prior to the services and at the conclusion of the rites, as the procession is leaving the church, a muffled peal will be rung.

False Pretences Charge—William Hodges, eighteen years of age, pleaded guilty yesterday in city police court to a charge of having obtained $29 from C. M. Rose in part payment of an account for wood, and which consisted of a cheque, which was worthless. The name used was a fictitious one. The accused was remanded until this morning for sentence.

Dismissed Charge—C. Galvin, charged with assault upon J. Demal, was acquitted by Magistrate H. C. Hall yesterday in the city police court. The case was one in which a dispute had arisen over the raising of the rent of living quarters used by the accused, and the evidence differed as to who was the assailant. No corroboration of either side was forthcoming, and the magistrate said he must give the accused the benefit of the doubt, and so dismissed the charge.

Coast Defence—A letter to Mayor McGavin from Defence of Canada League, Victoria Division No. 1, reminded His Worship that the following resolution was passed at a meeting on October 8: "That the mayor of the city of Victoria be requested to call a meeting of local mayors, reeves and councillors, together with representatives of public bodies, to demand that the Federal Government take adequate measures for defence of the Pacific Coast." The league urged early consideration of the request.

Re-rent Town Premises—Though the original lease of the British Columbia Health Insurance Commission of the second floor of the Weiler Block, Government Street, expired yesterday, the Provincial Government has re-rented the premises for use by the Department of Public Works, it was announced yesterday by Hon. F. M. MacPherson. The consideration paid was not stated. The Health Insurance Commission will remain in a portion of the offices, while the balance will be used for overflow staffs from the Legislative Buildings, the minister said.

Chinese Children Here—A group of Chinese children from St. Francis Xavier Mission School arrived in Victoria yesterday in charge of Rev. Father Roland Roberts and Rev. Father Sharkey. Last evening they participated in a performance of the Chinese opera, "The Feast of the Little Lanterns," which will be repeated this afternoon and evening at St. Ann's Academy. During their stay in the city the children will be billeted with the local branch of the Catholic youth organization.

He spent a few days in Vancouver, and returned to the Terminal City last evening, en route for his home.

WILL PAY TRIBUTE TO DR. S. F. TOLMIE

will be conducted at 3 p.m. Interment will be at Royal Oak. The Government's decision was announced at noon yesterday by Acting Premier the Hon. John Hart, after members of the immediate family had acquiesced in the proposal by the Province to honor the memory of one of British Columbia's best-beloved citizens, who, between 1928 and 1933, had been Prime Minister of the province. Due to the shortness of notice, hurried plans were set in motion, with rearrangement of funeral arrangements throughout.

FIRST IN DECADE

The state funeral for Dr. Tolmie will be the first held in British Columbia since August 20, 1927, when a similar honor was conferred upon the late Hon. John Oliver, until then Prime Minister of British Columbia. Arrangements today will follow the same order, with the lying in state, the following of the cortege to the Cathedral by Dominion, provincial and civic leaders, the funeral service, and the reformation of the procession to proceed to the burial grounds at Royal Oak.

Arrangements are being made to accommodate those members of the public who may wish to file past the body of Dr. Tolmie as it lies in state in the assembly hall of the Legislative Buildings. In the forming of the actual funeral procession, fifty cars will carry official representatives, entering the grounds of Parliament Square by the west driveway, and leaving later by the east driveway.

ROUTE OF CORTEGE

The cortege will pass from Parliament Square along Belleville to Douglas, to Courtney, to Blanshard, to Burdett and Quadra, where it will arrive at the Cathedral.

Members of the Executive Council, Federal and provincial members of Parliament, Dominion and consular services, representatives of the judiciary, the church, and garrison forces, members of the aldermanic and other civic boards, Dominion and provincial civil servants, and others will follow the bier to the Cathedral and to the graveside. Such was the esteem in which Dr. Tolmie was held, it is expected that a large concourse of private vehicles will also be in the funeral procession.

To assist in marshalling the event without confusion, provincial and city police will be in charge of special traffic arrangements, and no cars will be permitted in the driveways of the Legislative Buildings until after the cortege has moved on. Private cars intending to take part in the procession are requested to park on Menzies Street or any place west of Parliament Square.

ACT AS PALLBEARERS

Honorary pallbearers have been requested to act as follows: John Wallace, acting president of the Victoria Liberal Association; R. D. Harvey, president of the Victoria Conservative Association; F. E. Winslow, Lindley Crease, K.C.; Canon Joshua Hinchliffe, E. W. McMullen, Colonel F. G. Hood, James Angus, Frederick Pemberton, William Todd, W. C. Moresby, K.C., and Major Douglas Macdonald.

Active pallbearers are: R. H. Pooley, K.C.; Brigadier J. Sutherland Brown, General J. A. Clark, Dr. John A. Stewart, Alderman Dr. J. D. Hunter, M.P.P.-elect, and Clement Carmichael. J. W. Spencer will represent the Dominion Government, and Capt. W. Hobart Molson, M.C., A.D.C., the Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia.

At the Cathedral, Rt. Rev. H. E. Sexton, Bishop of Columbia, will conduct the funeral service, assisted by Rev. Canon Chadwick.

The remains of Dr. Tolmie at present are reposing in Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel.

WILL MAKE FINAL DEMAND FOR RECALL

notes were said to be identical in substance. They were prepared after extended conferences in Paris and London.

FIVE POINTS STRESSED

Officials said they contained five points:

1. France and Great Britain accept Italy's suggestion that the question of recalling foreign volunteers be discussed by the Non-Intervention Committee instead of a tripartite conference.
2. As evidence of good will, they ask all powers at once to withdraw a "symbolic" contingent from Spain and simultaneously agree to the principle of recall of all volunteers.
3. If an agreement is not reached within a period to be fixed by the head of the Non-Intervention Committee, France and Britain would declare themselves at liberty to decide on their own course.

PROPOSE GENERAL METHOD

France and Britain propose a general method for withdrawal of foreign troops, providing for successive recall of detachments from both sides in Spain, with size in proportion to the total number of volunteers, until all volunteers are removed.

5. The two countries are ready to deliberate on the question of granting belligerent rights to both parties in the civil war when substantial progress has been achieved in withdrawals of volunteers.

DEATH CLAIMS JOHN JARDINE

Following year the Liberal party gave the nomination to M. B. Jackson. R. H. Pooley was the Conservative candidate at that election, and Mr. Jardine and H. D. Helmsken supported the McBride Government; a fifth candidate, Mr. Oliver, representing Labor, also was in the field. Mr. Pooley captured the seat, which he continued to hold until he retired last election.

After his defeat, Mr. Jardine was appointed a member of the Labor Commission of five, set up by the Government to inquire into labor conditions in British Columbia. The commission visited all important points in the province, examined 419 witnesses, personally inspected mines, logging camps and railway construction operations, and made its report in March, 1914. From that year on, Mr. Jardine ceased to take an active interest in politics.

RETIRED FROM BUSINESS

Mr. Jardine carried on a painting and decorating business on Government Street for many years, but retired from business just before he went into the Legislature and continued to live in retirement at the end of his term.

He is survived by his widow, living at Macaulay Point, and one brother, Frank; several nephews living in Scotland, and a nephew, James Marshall, of the Victoria Immigration Department staff.

The funeral will take place on Monday at 2:30 from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Parlors. Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson will conduct the service. Interment will be at Colwood Burial Park.

MANY INACCURACIES

It was found that many inaccuracies existed on maps of the western coastline of Baffin Island and at least 2,000 square miles of territory were added. Baffin Island was found to be a huge deposit of limestone. Baird, a student of geology, doubts if mineral deposits will be found in commercial quantities on Baffin Island. Running like an alpine chain southward through the island was a range of mountains, some of them towering 6,000 feet, which Baird intends to explore later.

DECEIVING TIP

It was learned the killing of the two constables in a pre-dawn battle on the road to Bethlehem followed a tip to police that 150 Arabs planned to attack the police station at Hebron.

Police reserves were rushed from Jerusalem. They ran into barricades on a curve near historic Solomon's Pool, where they were fired upon from about thirty yards. The constables, Norman Harrison and Austin Malia, fell mortally wounded.

There will be a meeting under the auspices of the Oak Bay Liberal Association held in the Oak Bay Theatre Hall on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. Alderman W. T. Gifts in Pumpkin

Miss Gladys Smith, who is to be married shortly, was complimented last evening when Mrs. Forest Ray and Mrs. Stewart Smith entertained for her at the home of Mrs. W. A. Smith, Vancouver Street, at a surprise miscellaneous shower. The many gifts were concealed in a huge pumpkin which was drawn in by little Flossie Ray with tiny candles. The pumpkin was placed on the top of the pumpkin. Both little girls were dressed as garden nymphs. In the reception room, gay with bronze chrysanthemums, the lights were dim and the glow from Halloween sparklers cast an eerie light. During the evening the guests were entertained by tap dancing by Misses Flossie Ray and Kathleen Burns; Miss Betty-Rae Ritchie sang a delightful solo, Mrs. R. Gleason as accompanist. A buffet supper was served by Misses Betty-Rae Ritchie, Jean Ray, Connie Orrick, Flossie Ray and Kathleen Burns. The supper table was attractively arranged with a silver bowl of bronze chrysanthemums and lighted by orange tapers in matching holders. The guests were: Mrs. A. Smith, Mrs. M. Fairfull, Mrs. D. With the warm recommendation of Dr. Lewis Sperry Chaffer there comes to the city Dr. O. Vansteenberghe, co-director of the Belgian Gospel Mission, who will be the speaker at Central Baptist Church on Sunday evening.

Dr. Vansteenberghe is a Belgian by birth and has been associated with the work of the mission from almost the beginning. This work was founded by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Norton in November, 1918. At present there are sixty-eight posts or stations from which the gospel is being sent, concerning which Dr. Vansteenberghe has a thrilling story to tell. The visitor speaks French, Flemish and excellent English, and has a wide knowledge of present-day conditions in Europe.

In the evening there will be a baptismal service, when a number of believers will publicly confess Christ as Saviour and Lord.

The pastor's morning subject will be based on the scripture, "That which we have seen and heard." The Lord's Supper will be observed.

At the 11 a.m. service the choir will render the anthem, "Heaven Is My Home" (Nevin), and in the evening the anthem "At Even Ere the Sun Was Set" (Turner), and Frank Hollins will sing "Immortality" (Herman Lohr).

That Body of

FUNCTIONAL (NOT ORGANIC)
HEART DISEASE

When a patient consults a physician complaining of shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart, and pain over heart or breastbone, naturally patient and physician may both suspect heart disease. If, also, there is early fatigue, general weakness, dizziness and profuse sweating, real or organic heart-disease must surely be present.

That many of the above symptoms may be present without true heart disease was definitely shown during and after the war, and even more recently during the three or four years when times were difficult. All these symptoms may be due to what is known as "functional" heart disease. Functional means that while the heart (or other organ) is perfectly sound in its structure, nevertheless something is interfering with the way it does its work. In true or organic disease there is something wrong with the structure of the organ—valve not closing properly, fibrous tissue taking place of elastic tissue, or other condition,

The cause of functional heart disease is not definitely known. It is sometimes called "irritable heart" and "soldier's heart." The factors that predispose or bring on the condition more easily are heredity or constitutional weakness, lack of food or wrong kind of food, overwork, recovering from various infectious fevers, focal infections (teeth, tonsils, sinuses), and early tuberculosis. "It may be caused by financial anxiety, family worries, emotional conflicts, physical and mental stress." Dr. W. E. Nesbit, San Antonio, in The Texas Journal of Medicine, tells us that the prognosis (chances) as to life are good, but many of these cases do not seem to improve, despite treatment. "Treatment consists in assuring the patient that no organic disease has been found. The cause and the way the ailment produces symptoms should be explained, and a healthful daily programme regarding rest and food should be worked out. A mild sedative (quieting medicine) may be prescribed, but drugs to slow down or stimulate the heart should not be used." This, of course, is sound advice, because it is not the heart, but the mind of the individual (worried, anxious, upset) that is causing the heart symptoms.

Sooke Community
Association Plans
ALL-ISLAND FROLIC

Sooke, Oct. 15.—A general meeting of the Sooke Community Association was held in the hall on Tuesday evening. H. W. Goodrich presided. It was arranged to hold an all-

Vancouver Island country dance and frolic in the Community Hall on November 17. This affair will be for the purpose of raising building funds, and arrangements are in charge of the same committees which managed the all-Sooke day. The Community Hall is to be finished on the outside with rustic, and to be painted. This work is to commence immediately, along with the installing of a heating system.

SEABISCUIT WILL OPPOSE ELEVEN RIVALS TODAY

GETS BIG CHANCE TO ENTER SELECT GROUP BY SCORING VICTORY

Triumph in Laurel Stakes Over Mile Distance Will Boost Winnings Up to $200,000—Carrying Top Weight of 126 Pounds, but Is Facing Some Good Milers on Eastern Race Track

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (AP).—Seabiscuit, champion of the United States handicap division from C. S. Howard's stable, gets his chance to enter the select group of horses which have won $200,000 when he opposes eleven worthy rivals in the $7,500 Laurel Stakes—a mile race—tomorrow.

The four-year-old son of Hard Tack, winner of eight of his last nine starts, has earned $194,285, the greater part of it since being purchased by the California sportsman for $7,500 last year. He tops the 1937 list with winnings of $152,780 since January 1.

Despite his easy victory in the Continental Handicap at Jamaica last Tuesday, he faces no easy task. The distance is the main thing against him, although he has been asked to carry top weight of 126 pounds and give from three to eighteen pounds to some mighty fleet rivals.

Seabiscuit is a fast breaker, but has been at his best in longer races. Tomorrow, he must have the speed to match the steps of such good milers as A. C. Compton's Clingen-daal, H. C. McGehee's Fair Knight-ess, T. P. Morgan's Heffly, J. M. Y. Christmas' Rough Time and J. A. Manfuso's Anenid.

ARGOS CLASH WITH INDIANS

Toronto and Montreal Set For Feature Game on Eastern Card

TORONTO, Oct. 15 (AP).—As choice a dish as you could ask for this early in the season will be served to the East tomorrow for the second course of the 1937 football menu. Five senior games bring together the title contenders—and at this stage no team is anything else.

Toronto Argonauts will entertain the Indians, of Montreal, in Varsity Stadium, in the highlight contest. This clash will determine the leader—for a week anyway—of the Inter-Provincial Union. Both were returned victors in their opening league clashes last Saturday when Indians scalped Ottawa Rough Riders 17-6 and the scullers outlasted Hamilton Tigers 17-16.

On performance Indians might rule slight favorites, with the Tiger-Rough Riders game at Ottawa a toss-up. The loser at Montreal will take the cellar in the Big Four. Anything might happen in the Inter-Collegiate Union, where no one team has shown decided superiority. University of Toronto moves into Montreal against McGill, while Queen's make a home stand against University of Western Ontario Mustangs.

Pancho Villa to Miss Main Bout

LONDON, Oct. 15 (AP).—Pancho Villa, Spanish boxer, retired today from his scheduled headline bout with Al Delaney, Canadian fighter, set for October 18 at the National Sporting Club. Promoters announced Harry Staal, Dutch champion, would meet Delaney instead of the Spaniard. Villa was forced to cancel the bout when he strained his back muscles in training.

Winner at Uplands

Mrs. F. B. Shore won the hidden-hole competition held yesterday at the Uplands Golf Club. Mrs. D. Fletcher was the runner-up.

When Hubbell Scored Disputed Run

Breaking the Yankees' winning streak in the world series, the New York Giants won the fourth game played at the Polo Grounds, 7 to 3. Carl Hubbell, Giant pitcher, held the Yankees down to six hits during the entire game. Photo shows Hubbell in his disputed tally in the second inning. Bartell, Giant shortstop, singled to centre, bringing Hubbell home. It appeared as though Hubbell was caught, but he sidestepped, and Umpire Stewart declared him safe. Dickey, Yankee catcher, is shown at left coming up with the ball.

Questions Right Of Vancouver to Play for Honors

Interior Lacrosse Promoter at Loss to Understand Why Bluebirds Have Been Chosen to Represent Province in Junior Play-Offs—Representative Kootenay Team Not Considered

NELSON, B.C., Oct. 15 (AP).—Arthur Wallace, promoter of junior box lacrosse in the Kootenay Interior, in a prepared statement tonight questioned the right of Vancouver's Province Bluebirds to travel East as British Columbia champions to play in Winnipeg, and, if they win there, in Toronto.

Wallace said lacrosse officials in the Interior had received no notice the provincial title had been handed to the Vancouver players, and that no games had been played between Bluebirds and a representative Kootenay team.

While the Coast club entered final training grind before their trip across Canada, Wallace stated his only information Bluebirds had been chosen to represent the province came from newspaper clippings. He continued:

"If it's a question of a walkaway for the Coast boys, I'd like to point out that we have almost a complete junior team in the Interior of boys who played this season in senior company and who are still eligible for junior classification."

NELSON WON TITLE
"And although Nelson won the Interior champions, it is the Interior that British Columbia lacrosse officials have to deal with, for it was agreed that no matter which of the Kootenay cities won the title it could strengthen with players from the other Kootenay cities for the provincial play-offs. We'd have a pretty strong team on that basis."

"I'd like to know, and so, I am sure, would others in Trail, Rossland and Nelson, who have supported the junior game, just how Bluebirds come to be British Columbia titlists—and what that makes the Interior."

(Wallace did not say with whom agreement had been reached concerning strengthening of Nelson's team by importations from other centres.)

Izzy Gastanaga Trims Lewis in Ten-Round Fight

DETROIT, Oct. 15 (AP).—Izzy Gastanaga, Cuban heavyweight who scored a sensational two-round knockout of Lorenzo Pack, Detroit Negro, here last month, won a convincing ten-round decision from John Henry Lewis, light-heavyweight champion of the world, fighting in an overweight bout tonight.

Gastanaga had the Negro on the floor twice, once in the first round for a one-count and again in the third for nine.

Gastanaga weighed 209, Lewis 186.

TONY LAZZERI IS RELEASED BY THE YANKS

Veteran Second Baseman of Baseball Champions Expects to Be Manager

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (AP).—Tony Lazzeri, veteran second baseman of the New York Yankees and betting star of the recent world series, was given his unconditional release by the world champions tonight.

The announcement of the release said the Yanks learned from reliable sources Tony had been offered a job as manager of a major league club for 1938.

The Boston Bees and St. Louis Browns are the only two clubs with vacancies for next year. All other teams, with the exception of the Cleveland Indians, have signed managers for next season, and the tribe is expected to retain Steve O'Neill.

Veteran of twelve years of big league play with the Yankees, and holdover from the Yanks' era of Babe Ruth, Lazzeri is one of the shrewdest thinkers in the game today.

He left New York the day after the world series ended Sunday, and is en route to his home in San Francisco.

MAY MAKE BID
ST. LOUIS, Oct. 15 (AP).—Although club officials could not be reached, several authoritative sources indicated tonight it is possible the St. Louis Browns may make a bid for the services of Tony Lazzeri as manager or assistant manager of the club.

WINNIPEG TO MEET BRONKS

Blue Bombers Must Win Today's Grid Game Against Calgary Squad

WINNIPEG, Oct. 15 (AP).—Winnipeg Blue Bombers linemen face their sternest assignment at Osborne Stadium tomorrow when they collide for the fourth time this year with the high-stepping Calgary Bronks in a Western Conference football game that has the makings of a classic.

Leading the conference with five wins against one loss—the opening game against Winnipeg here—Calgary will arrive tonight and hold a light workout. Last Monday, Carl Cronin's gridmen trimmed Bombers 7-1. Winnipeg also lost another game to Regina last Saturday.

Outchaged in Calgary last Monday, Line Coach Greg Kabat is far from satisfied his men have recovered the fighting spirit that characterized their play in the last home game against Regina three weeks ago.

This week, Bombers practised behind closed doors preparing for what Bob Fritz calls the toughest game of the year. Only a few changes in the line-up will be made. The major one, however, will bring Lou Adelman out of retirement again to play at centre. He played against Regina three weeks ago.

Four Players to Be Given Tryout in Hockey League

MONTREAL, Oct. 15 (AP).—Four former National Hockey League players will be given tryouts as referees in the N.H.L. this year, League President Frank Calder announced today.

They are Sylvio Mantha and Bert McCaffery, former Montreal Canadiens; Charlie McVeigh, once with New York Americans, and Reg Noble, who has played with Montreal Maroons, Detroit Red Wings and Toronto Maple Leafs. Others to get tryouts will be N. W. Lamport, of Toronto, an Ontario Hockey Association official, and Archie McTeer, Calgary.

Last year's line-up of N.H.L. arbiters will be intact this year except for Referee-in-Chief Bill Stewart, who resigned to take over the job of managing the Chicago Black Hawks.

NARRAGANSETT OPENS MONDAY

Supreme Court Rules That Track May Start Racing Again Next Week

PROVIDENCE, R.I., Oct. 15 (AP).—Counsel for Narragansett race track and its chieftain, Walter E. O'Hara, happy over a State Supreme Court victory, tonight declared Narragansett's Fall race 'meet' would start Monday, despite Governor Robert E. Quinn's manifesto the track would not open.

A decision of the Rhode Island Supreme Court today setting aside a state racing division order suspending indefinitely the track's licence and ordering O'Hara's removal as president and managing director was the second triumph for O'Hara.

The high court almost a month ago set aside a previous division ruling ordering O'Hara's removal "forthwith."

The track's intention to open on Monday as scheduled was announced for O'Hara by Raymond J. McMahon, association secretary and general counsel.

Governor Quinn earlier this week said the track would not open on Monday—and today, informed of the court ruling, said his statement "still stands."

T. H. Kingscote, retiring president, who occupied the chair at yesterday's meeting, presented his report of the year's activities, and the secretary, E. W. Carr-Hilton, read a satisfactory financial statement. W. Prest was accorded a hearty vote of thanks for auditing the books of the club.

The newly-elected committee will hold a meeting next Monday.

COOPER AND SMITH GAIN FIRST PLACE

Strong Golf Combination Head Field in $5,000 Four-Ball Tourney

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 15 (AP).—Chicago's Horton Smith and Harry Cooper took command of the Oklahoma City $5,000 four-ball golf tournament today by posting four points on the plus side of their score sheet at the end of the third round.

After dropping a point to Johnny Revolta of Chicago and Ray Mangrum of Dayton, O., in the second round this morning, Smith and Cooper fired a low-ball 68 at Jimmy Thomson, Shawnee-on-the-Delaware, and Tommy Armour of Chicago to win their third round match three-up.

The loss left Thomson and Armour with a minus two at the end of two days' play.

DAY'S THRILL

Another Chicago pair, Ky Laffoon and Dick Metz, provided the day's big thrill when they blasted five birdies in a row on the last five holes of the third round to whip Oklahoma City's team of Zell Eaton and Francis Schneider four-up.

Their victory brought them even with the board and shoved the Oklahomans down to last place, seven points in the red.

Ralph Guldahl, United States open champion, and his partner, Billy Burke, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., who led the field at the end of the first round, faded today under the withering third-round fire of Revolta and Mangrum.

PREPAREDNESS

Smith entered a big London store and made his way to the gardening department. "I want three lawnmowers," he said.

The assistant stared hard at him. "Three, sir?" he echoed. "You must have a very big estate." "Nothing of the kind," snapped Smith grimly. "I have two neighbors."

Jane Dixon Says:

A VERY YOUNG GIRL WHO MARRIED A MAN SECRETLY BECAUSE SHE FELT SORRY FOR HIM, NOW FEELS SORRY FOR HERSELF

A very young girl who is in the habit of acting first and reflecting afterward, is paying a heavy price for her impulsiveness.

She married in haste. Now she is repenting at leisure. When we say a person is impulsive what we really mean is that he or she is thoughtless, undisciplined, lacking in control. Impulsiveness is a polite name for weakness, willfulness, lack of character.

Those who yield to impulse without stopping to inquire whether impulse is leading them are forever in a snarl, threatening about to disentangle themselves from the knots into which they tie their lives.

We may sympathize with the suffering they must endure for their mistakes, but we cannot untie them or change their nature. These things they must do for themselves, with their profit from experience.

"Dear Jane Dixon: My dearest friend—we've been pals for years—is in deep trouble. We're both in our mid-teens. I want to do anything I can to help her."

"Miss Dixon, my friend has made a secret marriage. She did not want to marry, but the boy she was going with kept begging her to do it and she said she felt so sorry for him she finally consented. Now she is just about a nervous wreck; doesn't know what to do."

SHE LOVES ANOTHER BOY

"You see, she doesn't love him. She says she never can love him. Her whole heart is elsewhere with a boy to whom her parents object. She went with this boy for a long time, always against the wishes of her parents, who quarreled with her continually and punished her cruelly when they caught her stealing away to meet him."

"Finally, in desperation, she gave the boy up, told him she no longer cared for him and he stopped seeing her. Then the other boy, the one she has married, came along, started being attentive to her, gave her a grand rush. Her parents approved of him, let her go any place at any time with him. They think he is perfect."

"I guess, after the way they held her down for so long, the liberty she had went to her head. She always has been impulsive and regrets her mistakes after they are made. She says she can't go through with this marriage and wants to have it annulled. She has not lived with the boy as his wife. The very thought of doing so makes her desperate."

"To get an annulment means taking the case to court and getting a lawyer, and all that costs money. I advised her to tell her parents, but she is afraid they will punish her and maybe force her to live with the boy against her will. She has told him she regrets yielding to his pleas and he has threatened all sorts of things, including suicide. He might carry out his threats, too—he's that sort—hot-headed and impulsive and weak."

MARRIAGE STILL A SECRET

"No one knows of the marriage except myself. My friend wants my help. What can I advise her, what can I do? I know you can't work miracles, but please make some suggestions. We need you—Sincerely Friend."

Comment: Your friend should go to the judge of the court which grants divorces and annulments in your city, tell him the entire story and ask him to advise her. He will inform her of her rights if he is the kindly and understanding man he should be. Such action also would be a protection against measures her parents might take either by way of physical punishment which would avail nothing, or by way of forcing her into a relation abhorrent to her and which can only result in a more complicated misery, if not in tragedy, for both herself and the ill-balanced boy.

There is no back road out of the muddle into which your friend has allowed herself to be led. The quickest, safest and kindest way for her to extricate herself is to face the music. She will have to show the strength in which she has been so sadly lacking. She will have to make a decision and abide by it, no matter what pressure is brought to force her into compounding her mistake. In any case, she will have to pay for her folly. Better to pay for release from it than for continuation and multiplication of it.

She is fortunate to have such an understanding and loyal friend as you.

CHAPTER I

When she walked into the rather dingy lounge of the small station hotel, Robert Harwood glanced up from the newspaper over which he had been yawning, a flash of interest driving the boredom from his eyes.

She was such an unexpected and surprising invasion with her neat clothes and air of slightly impatient assurance that she stared at her rather rudely until she suddenly addressed him. Then he rose to his feet, letting the newspaper drop to the floor.

"Are you the proprietor of this place?" she demanded.

Robert said "Nope!" Not because he was American but because the brief word seemed a suitable reply to her imperious question.

The girl frowned as she stared at him with resentful eyes. "Is there a proprietor?" she asked after a moment.

"There is," Robert said non-committally.

"Well—" She seemed slightly taken aback. "I'm hungry," she informed him in a more friendly tone.

Robert smiled. "You won't care about the food here," he said, confidentially. "The beef is tough and cooked to death—the potatoes are watery and—"

She broke in. "Is this the only hotel in the place?"

"Careful exploration has taught me that the entire town consists of two public houses, a row of cottages, three shops, a vicarage—and this."

The girl gazed suddenly for a chair, dropping into it limply. "I'm sorry—but I believe I'm going to faint," she whispered.

Robert took a quick step forward. "For heaven's sake don't do that," he said in alarm. "I'll get you some brandy from the bar—if they've got any."

He returned quickly, carrying a tumbler half filled with a doubtful-looking mixture. "It's not very good," he apologized, "but it will pull you together."

He noticed that her hand shook as she took the glass from him, and that her teeth chattered against it as she tried to drink. There was a moment's silence before he asked briefly: "Better?"

She nodded, leaning back against the hard chair with a little sigh. "I'm all right now," she said presently.

He took the tumbler from her and waited, conscious of relief when she said, with a faint smile: "I think I could eat something now."

"I'll find the waitress," he said, and left the room. A moment later he returned. "She's bringing something—"

He looked at the girl with veiled curiosity. She had taken off her hat now and he saw that her hair was fair and that it waved charmingly; she was pretty, too, now that the color was stealing back into her cheeks. She had blue eyes, and he liked blue eyes when they were rimmed with dark lashes.

"It's hot this afternoon," she apologized.

The waitress arrived with a tray of not very appetizing food, and Robert walked over to the one small window, opening it wider. "There's not much air," he said.

The girl had drawn her chair up to the table and was looking with discouraged eyes at its not over-clean cloth and shabby fern in a green pot. "I don't believe I'm hungry after all," she said rather helplessly.

"Better eat something," Robert said.

It was some moments before either of them spoke again, and then she said, with a hint of laughter, "You look out of place here—somehow."

He made a little grimace. "I've been here for the best part of it. My car broke down and I've been obliged to leave it to the tender mercies of the man who sells bicycles. When I left him he was attacking it with a hammer. He picked up the fallen newspaper."

"I'm sure you've read it all through," the girl said.

"Twice," he admitted.

They looked at each other and laughed, and suddenly Robert said, "You look rather out of place here, too."

"I am," she admitted. "But I couldn't go any farther without something to eat." She pushed away the plate with its hardly touched cheese and biscuits. "I'm looking for a job," she said, with surprising candor.

Robert's eyes wandered over slim daintiness. "In this place?"

She half shrugged her shoulders. "Beggars can't be choosers."

Robert drew up a chair to the opposite side of the table and sat down, leaning his arms on its wooden back. "What sort of a job?" he asked.

"Any sort. The one I came after here was at the vicarage, but it's a washout. Someone else got it, and it wouldn't have suited me, anyway—to be a sort of companion-help to a vicar's wife. I saw her, and she was worse than anything you can imagine."

"Were you ever so optimistic as to imagine it would suit you?"

She laughed. "It was a case of any port in a storm, but I never have any luck—they take one look at me and I know I'm doomed to failure."

"I'm not surprised," he said.

"You mean—my clothes?" she questioned. "Well, they're all I've got."

"No luggage?" he asked whimsically.

"Yes, a suitcase—it's out there in the passage," she broke off, frowning. "I don't know why I'm telling you all this."

He leaned his chin on his folded arms. "Why not tell me the rest?" he asked.

She groped in a small handbag and took out a cigarette case, which was empty when she opened it. "Have one of mine," Robert said.

"Thank you." She took one and he lit it for her, his eyes still intent on her face.

"What about that story?" he asked presently as she did not speak.

"Why should you be interested?" she parried.

"Perhaps I'll tell you mine—in exchange," he answered.

They looked at each other in silence. Then she laughed.

"Oh, all right—but mine's not very interesting. I ran away from home eighteen months ago—to go on the stage. I've got a stepmother, and we hate each other. She told me that I'd fail—that there were dozens of girls as presentable as I am who find it impossible to earn a living at anything—and she was right. I'm a failure, sure enough, and I'm broke into the bargain. But I'm not going home—"

She set her white teeth determinedly, and then suddenly she laughed again. "Hence the vicar's wife!" she said.

She took up the little handbag once more. "Well, I'll just pay my bill and find out about the trains to London."

"There isn't one for another hour."

"Isn't there?" She sounded quite indifferent. "Well, I suppose I might as well sit here as anywhere else."

"You live in London?"

"I did—till last night; but when I heard about the vicar's wife I gave up my room. I had the very stupid and mistaken feeling that my luck had changed at last. Do you ever have that feeling?" she asked flippantly.

Robert rubbed his chin thoughtfully. "Perhaps it has changed," he said.

"You mean my luck? ... I'm afraid not." She sounded a little weary, but almost at once she was smiling. "I suppose you haven't got a nice maiden aunt or any one who would like a perfectly incapable but very willing companion, have you?"

Robert laughed. "As a matter of fact I have," he said seriously. "At least I have the maiden aunt, but as far as I know she is too capable herself to want a companion."

The girl sighed in mock tragedy. "Checkmate again," she submitted, and then suddenly she pushed back her chair and arose. "I must go—thank you for being so nice to me."

Robert rose also. "Don't go," he said. "I've quite a lot to tell you—if you'll listen! And the London train really doesn't go for another hour—I made inquiries when it seemed unlikely that the bicycle man could do anything except make the situation a thousand times worse. It's twenty past two now—and the train is due at three-eighteen." She hesitated, glancing towards the window, and he added with a smile: "If you walk about in this heat you'll only feel faint again."

"Oh! ... very well." She went back to her chair and Robert leaned his broad shoulders against the narrow mantelpiece, his hands thrust into his pockets. "You asked me just now if I had a maiden aunt who wanted a companion," he said. "Does that mean that you are willing to take any old job that comes along?"

She echoed his words lightly. "Any old job ... you would, wouldn't you? If you had only five shillings between you and the workhouse."

"They call them 'institutions' now," he said with a twinkle, and then suddenly serious again he asked a little hesitatingly, "How would you like to take a job with me?"

"With you? In an office, I suppose." She shook her charming head. "I can't type, or do shorthand or anything like that."

"Shorthand and d. typewriting wouldn't be necessary. You see, the job I have in mind is—well, quite unique in its way—it's well—"

He laughed rather self-consciously. "As a matter of fact I should want to engage you as an unofficial wife."

She stared at him—the color beating slowly into her face, her eyes very wide. "You don't look—mad," she said at last.

"I'm not," Robert assured her calmly. "I've never been more sane than I am at this moment." He looked at her considerably. "Care to hear about it?" he asked.

She glanced at a rickety clock on the mantelpiece behind him from which one of the hands was missing. "You say the train doesn't go till three-eighteen," she said briefly.

"That means you'll listen," he said. "Very well—here goes!" ... but it was some seconds before he began to speak.

The girl watched him closely, good-looking as he decided—tall, manly—she liked the way his hair grew and the rather obstinate lines of his chin; brown eyes, too—funny that fate always decreed that her men friends should be brown-eyed.

She still sigh thinking of one particular man who could—had he loved her—have changed the whole of her life. Nearly a year since she had seen him—an unhappy year made up of struggle and disappointment and hardship. No use thinking about him—no use looking back into a past which had nothing to recommend it except that it was the past and could not come again.

"Please go on," she said quietly. (To be continued.)
